FRIENDS OF TURNBULL
NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE
CHENEY, WASHINGTON

A 501(c)(3) organization incorporated in 1997.

Friends organizations are crucial to the collective mission of the Refuge System to conserve and protect the wildlife of this great nation. Friends organizations are essential to helping millions of Americans understand that their actions today determine the legacy we leave for tomorrow.

Turnbull National Wildlife Refuge is located approximately four miles south of Cheney, Washington and twenty miles southwest of Spokane. To access the Refuge leave the city of Cheney on the Cheney-Plaza Rd, driving south to the sign for Turnbull National Wildlife Refuge at South Smith Rd, turning left . The refuge encompasses 20,057 acres, of which approximately 2,300 acres are designated for public use.

Mission: The Friends of Turnbull National Wildlife Refuge is a nonprofit organization that advocates for and supports the mandate of the refuge to protect and enhance wildlife and their habitats through education, research, habitat preservation and restoration, and compatible public uses.

The Refuge consists of four distinct habitats in the channeled scabland topography - forest, grassland, wetlands and riparian habitats. The diverse habitats at Turnbull make it a high quality site for breeding and migratory waterfowl.

Nature Store

The Nature Store is open on weekends and offers educational and outreach items for sale. The store is staffed by volunteers and supports projects of the Friends group.

Education

Our organization supports the education mission of the Refuge by encouraging volunteers to help with the various programs and by raising funds to help support the several environmental education interns who facilitate environmental education for school groups on and off refuge.

Advocacy

The Friends of Turnbull is a member of the National Wildlife Refuge Association.

Research

The Friends of Turnbull members may assist the refuge biologists with wildlife and habitat surveys and bird counts and banding. The group also supports student researchers from area colleges and universities, particularly Eastern Washington University, with occasional material support and presentation event audiences.

Habitat Restoration

In addition, the Friends of Turnbull participates with event support and volunteers in the annual planting and habitat restoration events on the Refuge.

FOT Activities / Newsletter

Friends of Turnbull also offers educational events and workshops for the general public. Watch the calendar on the website and in the quarterly Newsletters sent to members.
